Stephanie and Faith,

The Navy has decided to send comments in a letter vice e-mail. We apologize for this delay and inconvenience and will e-mail a .pdf copy followed by the hard copy next week. Thank you for your understanding.

Stephanie,

You mentioned our response regarding the Historic Effects Assessment can be informal with an e-mail. Please confirm this. Before sending to you, I need to run it through our Public Works Officer.

Very Respectfully,
Patty

Subject: Pearl Harbor Effects Assessment

Hi Patty--

I hope this email finds you well. In January, you were so kind to escort me around Pearl Harbor as I completed the effects assessment for the Honolulu High Capacity Transit Corridor project (the elevated light-rail system). Those assessments were included in the recent Historic Effects Report document, which we sent to Mr. John Muraoka on April 15, 2009, with a proposed 30-day review period as required under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act. To date, we have not received any comments from the Navy. Of course, we want to consider any input that your office may have. However, if the Navy has no comment, would it be possible for you to forward either an email or a letter stating that you have no responses to the content as it relates to the Pearl Harbor resources. (Essentially, the report contains no alterations from the effects impacts that we discussed during our site visit.) Normally, if the 30 days have passed, we assume that there is no comment, but we want to be extra careful and actually document that the Navy had no response.

Thanks for any help you can offer, Patty. I so enjoyed meeting you and appreciate your ongoing assistance. If you have any questions or need more information, I can be reached at this email address, or the mobile number below as I am currently enjoying your beautiful weather here in Honolulu.
